In the dark-ness, there's a light you can - not see.

13

In my heart, I feel it there; you just have to try to be-lieve. When your days are cold and grey, and the sun has hid-den from sight, That's the time to tell your-self, "It's all gon-na be al - ri - ght." Where there's a will, there's a way-, And soon this night will turn to day-. The world keeps on spin-ning and spin-ning a-round; We must-n't give up and we must-n't back down. Though the road is long with moun-tains tall We get back up ev' rytime we fall.

18

22

27

31

34

38

When you've just reached the end of your rope, there is hope.

45

In the street, we see all sorts of peo - ple go. Ev' ry sing - le one has stor-ies of their life that we'll ne-ver know. And if, one day, you

50

54  hear them say, "I just don't know what to do", Be the bea - con,

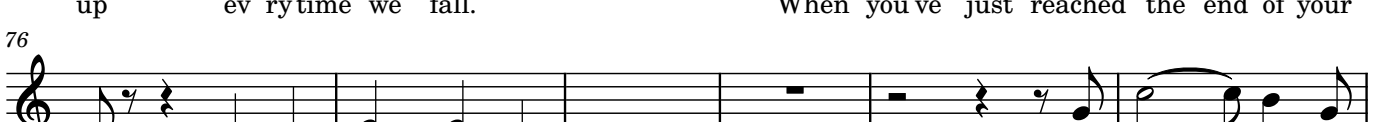

58  light their way, Add a rain - bow to their blues - ! Where there's a

62  will, there's a way And soon this night will turn to day. The

66  world keeps on spin - ning and spin - ning a - round; We must - n't give up and we

69  must - n't back down. Though the road is long with moun - tains tall We get back

72  up ev'rytime we fall. When you've just reached the end of your

76  rope, there is hope, there is hope. The dark - est times

82  is when hope will shi - ne! And you will fi -

86  nd it's from the most un - like - ly place. And ho - pe will gro -

90  w where - e - ver you go - ! You've got this, so car - ry o - n; there is

95  hope. (So car - ry on) (So car - ry on) (So car - ry on) Where there's a

will, there's a wa - y, And soon this night will turn to da - y. The
